

The Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,
Superintendent's Office,

April 6th, 1894.

Sir

We cannot return the identical coin as requested by the Cashier of the National Bank of Savannah as the coin at present is mixed with other burnt and mutilated coins it being impossible therefore to identify it. The mutilated coin referred to was first sent to the Redemption Bureau at Washington and not being redeemable was sent to the Mint and the sender advised of this reference. As the Mint does not redeem worn and mutilated coin at face value but purchases at current market rate, the present price of silver is 53⁺ per standard oz. the coin referred

The Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,
Superintendent's Office,

189

To weighed .82 of one ounce Making the coin worth 43¢.

Very Respectfully
Your obt. Servant
John J. Jones
High Clerk

To
Hon Eugene Foxmound
Superintendent

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 185

The Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,
Superintendent's Office,
April 6, 1894

Sir

We cannot return the identical coin as requested by the Cashier of the National Bank of Savannah as the coin as present is mixed with other burnt and mutilated coins it being impossible therefore to identify it. The mutilated coin referred to was first sent to the Redemption Bureau at Washington and not being redeemable was sent to the Mint and the sender advised of this reference. As the Mint does not redeem worn and mutilated coin at face value but purchases at current market rate. The present price of silver is 53 cents per standard oz. The coin referred to weighed .82 of one ounce making the coin worth 43 cents.

Very Respectfully
Your Obt. Servant
John P. Jones
Weight Clerk

To
Hon. Eugene Townsend
Superintendent